

Singapore Polytechnic Shaves For The First Time

Wednesday, 7th July 2010

To spread the message and encourage our youths of the future to step up and join in the cause of promoting awareness of childhood cancer, besides hosting the main shaving event and bringing satellite events to corporate partners, the Children's Cancer Foundation (CCF) also collaborates with schools to show support for children with cancer and their families.

This year, CCF welcomes yet another tertiary institution, Singapore Polytechnic, onboard the Hair for Hope family. A total of 33 shavees volunteered to go bald and raise funds for children affected by cancer, amongst which included 2 females!

Singapore Polytechnic participated as a first-time shavee with commendable efforts. Schools play an absolutely integral role in advocating amongst fellow youths the importance of assisting children with cancer resume normal school life. With an increasing number of youths being aware of the needs of children with cancer through Hair for Hope, Children's Cancer Foundation can now count on better support from the school community for a smoother transition back to school for our beneficiaries.
